++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
A dry start but patchy rain possible for some later.

Today:
Often cloudy but largely fine and dry in the morning. Outbreaks of patchy light rain in the south are possible during the afternoon, and some additional patchy light rain will make its way into the north later. Breezy along coasts. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy as patchy light rain continues moving southwards. Cloud gradually clearing to the southeast through the small hours, allowing for clear skies. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cool start on Tuesday, but fine and dry throughout the day with prolonged sunshine in the morning and then patchy cloud later. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain drifting southeastwards on Wednesday, and then a risk of some further patchy rain at times on Thursday and Friday. Warm in any sunnier periods.
